

Jean de Villiers joins the Resolution Health Team

Springbok rugby player and DHL Stormers centre Jean de Villiers is not just a rugby star, but also a member of Resolution Health and our new Brand Ambassador.

“I have been very happy with the way Resolution has dealt with my claims and the service has been really good,” said Jean, “I am really excited about my role as Brand Ambassador and look forward to adding value to the Resolution team!”

Commenting on the appointment, Mark Arnold, Principal Officer of Resolution Health said “Jean was a great choice to represent Resolution Health. Not only is he a superb rugby player and a great leader but he also shares many of the Schemes’ values, making him the ideal figurehead for us.”

“I trust Resolution Health to keep me fit and ready to make my country proud – so can you!” , said Jean

We welcome Jean to the Resolution Health team and wish him luck for the season ahead.
